

It's obscene... It should be stopped! It's the...

Banned Books Week Happy Hour!

Since 1982 the annual Banned Books Week is observed to remind Americans not to take for granted the precious freedom to read. Each year the ACLU and the American Library Association urge Americans to "Elect to Read a Banned Book," in honor of Banned Books Week.

Friday, October 1, 2010
Mickey's Tavern
1524 Williamson St.
5:30—7:30 p.m.

Free and open to the public
Door prizes, cash bar

The Banned Books Week Happy Hour is a part of the Wisconsin Book Festival and is co-sponsored by the Wisconsin Library Association's Intellectual Freedom Round Table. The event is made possible with in-kind donations from local businesses including Mickey's Tavern and the Just Coffee cooperative.

For more information call
469-5540 or visit aclu-wi.org

