

ACLU OF WISCONSIN

ANNUAL REPORT

2019

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

CHRISTOPHER OTT
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Thanks to supporters like you, the ACLU is growing in Wisconsin, applying what we learned in 2018 to become stronger and more effective this year, and for the critical challenges shaping up for 2020 and beyond.

Advocacy.

Early in 2018—with criminal justice reform and the fight against mass incarceration as one of our top priorities—the ACLU of Wisconsin quickly and successfully led a coalition effort that stopped a new prison. We knew that this proposal—with a price tag of 350 million borrowed dollars—would further contribute to Wisconsin’s problem with mass incarceration, creating more space to imprison people who would benefit more from services like treatment for addiction than being locked in a cage. When the State Assembly passed this proposal, we knew that we had to stop it in our State Senate. In a matter of weeks, we organized, and we won.

To accomplish this, we focused first on Wisconsin’s biannual budget process. We held trainings for hundreds of volunteers in four parts of our state to educate people who care about this issue on how they could demand a budget that supports investing in people—not prisons.

When the state’s powerful Joint Finance Committee held day-long listening sessions throughout the state, we were ready, showing up in force for each and every one. Even in Wisconsin’s difficult political environment, this is a demonstration of what can be done with People Power.

Legal

Our legal work remains as important as ever. This year, in addition to our work inside of the courts, we prioritized ensuring that all students have access to a safe learning environment at school — free from race- and sex-based discrimination. This work made local and national headlines thanks to a demand letter we sent to the Kenosha Unified School District (KUSD), specifically directed at Tremper High School, in response to body-shaming awards that were given out at an annual cheerleading banquet.

Due, in part, to the large volume of sex- and race-based discrimination complaints we received, we took further action and profiled the situation at Tremper to remind other Wisconsin public schools of their constitutional obligation to protect students from all types of discrimination. Students have a right to an education, and Wisconsin schools must ensure that a hostile environment does not interfere with that right.

This is how the ACLU works. Wins like our victory against the new prison in 2018 reenergize us and light the way forward — but it takes steady, strategic work over months and years to achieve the breakthroughs and victories we need: for criminal justice reform, for educational equity, immigrants’ rights, for racial and gender justice, for voting rights, and much more. Your support powers this work. Thank you so much.

SMART JUSTICE

Wisconsin

HITTING THE ROAD!

In the summer of 2019, the ACLU of Wisconsin traveled the state sounding the alarm about Wisconsin's broken criminal justice system and the devastating impact of crimeless revocations. Our tour took us to Eau Claire, Racine, Brown Deer, Oshkosh, Wauwatosa and Green Bay.

On our tour, we talked with law enforcement leaders and policy experts, business owners and government officials — and the consensus was overwhelming: Wisconsin's crimeless revocation policy is unfair, unjust and in urgent need of reform.
