

WISCONSIN VOTER ID REQUIREMENTS

Voter ID is not the same as Voter registration. To vote in Wisconsin, you must have an ID.

Voter ID is in effect in Wisconsin. Most voters need a photo ID to vote in person on Election Day, to vote early in person at the clerk's office, and to vote absentee by mail.

Most voters need one of the following kinds of photo ID to vote. If you have any of these, you have what you need:

- Current or expired since 11/6/18;
Wisconsin photo ID card
U.S. Passport
Uniformed services (military) ID
- Veteran's Administration ID (VA ID) (unexpired or with no expiration date)
- Photo ID from federally recognized Indian tribe in Wisconsin
- Naturalization certificate from the two years before an election
- Student ID from a Wisconsin college or university IF the ID has a name, photo, signature, issuance date, & expiration date no more than 2 years from the issuance date, PLUS proof of enrollment.
- Receipt from DMV from applying for license or ID card (unexpired).

Some voters do NOT need ID to vote:

- Permanent overseas and military voters;
- Voters who are elderly or disabled and consider themselves "indefinitely confined" to home can vote absentee by mail without photo ID.
- Voters in nursing homes or other care facilities who vote with "special voting deputies."

Your photo ID does NOT have to have your current address to be valid for voting! If you move, you DON'T have to get an ID with your new address.

Your photo ID does NOT have to have the exact name you use to vote. Nicknames are OK!

Your photo ID just has to "reasonably resemble" you.

If you do NOT have a valid photo ID, you can apply for an ID for free at any Wisconsin Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) office.

OBTAINING AN ID:

If you do NOT have a valid photo ID, you can apply for an ID for free at any Wisconsin Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) office

If you have never had a Wisconsin drivers' license or state ID card, or haven't had one in the last 8 years, you should bring:

- Birth certificate if you have one or could get one for free
- Proof of identity (things like a social security card, ID or license from another state, or many other documents)
- Proof of residence

If you've had a Wisconsin license or state ID card in the last 8 years, and it's been lost, stolen, or expired, you should be able to get a new Wisconsin photo ID card for free with:

- Proof of identity (and if you don't have any of the proof of identity papers, you can ask DMV to look up a copy of your photo in their computer system instead); and
- Proof of residence

If you've changed your name (for example, due to marriage, divorce or name change) you also need to change the name on your ID).
